Weekly Update

Happy November! It looks like this great Fall weather we've been having will be gone soon. Snow is in the forecast for next week.

Daylight Savings is this weekend, remember to turn your clocks back, get that extra hour of sleep. The North Central Regional Library will continue their Bookmobile throughout November & December. Keep an eye out for them at Riverbend Park. The dates are posted on our website under our Event Calendar.

The Campground remains open through the winter, the rates are $25 per night. Each site has power and sewer. The campground bathrooms stay open and are heated. Also, 2023 campground reservations are open up to early August.

Have a great day!

Golfers,

Superintendent's Corner

The irrigation system on the course has been blown out and winterized which means that our height of cut on the greens has come up to its winter height. Today should reach the 60s for a high temperature, which may be the last time we see that for a while. Remember that the course is closed until the temperature rises above 40 degrees. We have a thermometer posted by the first tee but be sure to still check in with the pro shop on days that it is open before starting a round. This Friday we can expect some stormy weather with wind speeds in the 20s and 100% chance of rain so get out and enjoy some good weather golfing this week while you have the chance!

Thank you and enjoy the course.

Note from the Pro-Shop:

After Office is closed on weekends - Please use the honor Box.

Early Bird Golf Membership Sales From November 15th to January 31
